FOREWORD

OUR EXPANDING UNIVERSE– OUR EXPANDING LIVES

TODAY we are embarking on a brand new age—the age of space travel. Our world is growing in size; but, more important, it is growing in knowledge. We as the leaders of tomorrow must be ready to meet this expansion. Here at Harding we receive the foundation for our continued growth in knowledge and experience. With this in mind, the 1959 ACORN staff wishes to present to you in the following pages the many ways in which our Alma Mater influences our expanding universe and our expanding lives. It is our wish that in years to come the 1959 ACORN will continue to serve as a reminder of this influence.

THE 1958 RAMS

Under the leadership of Coaches Dave A. Harris and "Bud" Jennings, the 1958-1959 Rams stormed to a victory of 34-7 over West Mecklenburg in their first game of the season. This streak of victory did not hold out however, and the following week the Rams lost to Asheville with a score of 20-13.

This single loss could not hold the boys back though, and they began their climb back by racing with Gastonia to a 7-7 tie. This confidence inspired a spark of spirit, and the Rams literally stomped over North Mecklenburg resulting in a 33-6 score. Their next game, the halfway mark of the season, saw the Harding Rams win over East by a 26-6 margin.

The next two games were possibly the best of the whole season. Kannapolis gave up to a 26-6 loss to Harding. Then, the critics' upset of the year came when Albemarle went down in perhaps their most shameful and unexpected defeat. Getting revenge from the previous year, the Rams wound up that game with a 13-7 score. Perhaps the greatest surprise was the game with Myers Park. Being tensed throughout its entirety, the game ended with a 0-0 score. The following two games were losses, but we fought hard. Lancaster overscored Harding by a 26-0 defeat.

Central, being our big rival every year, turned the tide against Harding this year with a 14-0 victory.

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

June 2, 1959! A memorable day! The day the class of '59 comes of age. The day the tiny acorn planted in the misty days of '53 becomes a full grown oak.

As we made our way through the crowded halls back in that distant September we never gave thought to the fact that we were sowing the seed for today's flowering. No, we were entirely too busy finding classrooms that apparently didn't exist and boring our way through masses of towering juniors and seniors who seemingly didn't care whether they ever got anywhere on time or not.

Becoming better acquainted, however, we found the halls a wonderful place where we could admire brawny football heroes and glamorous cheerleaders and swoon with ecstasy whenever one happened to spare us a word—or even a glance.

Our teachers proved sympathetic and understanding. Jimmy King became our president for the year. Jimmie Lee Whitley was attendant to the gridiron queen. Jimmy King even managed to make the junior high football squad. We were beginning to find a place in school life. The tiny acorn was beginning to sprout.

With the next year we really started sinking our roots. Virginia Altizer and R. L. Jenkins were our presidents, Susan Hambrick our gridiron attendant. Mayme Jo Parr made the cheering squad though she was only an eighth grader; and three of our boys—Jimmy King, Tommy Byrum, and Scooter Witherspoon—and two girls—Pat Williams and Annelle Sherron—played on the junior high basketball teams. With Ken Parks and Jerry Cates as vice-president and secretary of the junior high student council first semester and Susan Hambrick and Phoebe Stroupe as vice-president and treasurer second semester, we were pushing upward.

And upward we went into the "senior class" of the junior high school and our responsibilities grew heavier. Trish Frye was freshman editor of the ACORN and Patsy Mullis exchange editor of the Hi-Lites. De Vera Taylor and Pam Worley served as junior student council presidents and Pam Worley and Phoebe Stroupe as secretaries.

With Beth Clinkscales at the helm, the Junior Honor Society sponsored the first junior high homecoming over which Jimmy King and Pam Worley ruled as king and queen. De Vera Taylor served as attendant at both the junior and senior high gridiron courts.

Jimmy King and Ken Parks were co-captains of football that year, leading the team to victory in the city championship. Lending their lungs to the cause were junior high cheerleaders Pam Worley, Betty Elliott, Phoebe Stroupe, R. L. Jenkins, George Mitchell, Judy Blackwood, Susan Hambrick, and Mayme Jo Parr, the head.

When Valentine rolled around, Phoebe Stroupe and Andy Martin were named Valentine prince and princess by the junior high school. And with baseball taking over, Jimmy King and Dwaine Godfrey made the varsity team—two lone freshmen.

Yes, Phoebe Stroupe and DeVera Taylor really led us through a busy nine months that ninth grade year, as we shot up, branching off here and there and everywhere—into every part of school life.

With the tenth grade we hit a temporary lull in our growth. We were underclassmen again, and other people took the leadership in activities outside of those of our own class. Mayme Jo Parr was again our lone representative on the cheering squad; but Jimmy King, Dwaine Godfrey, Ken Parks, and Scooter Witherspoon made varsity football. Emily Broome was our gridiron attendant, and Phoebe Stroupe our annual beauty. Becky Elam became sophomore editor of the ACORN, and eight of our girls managing to get themselves on the program for Junior-Senior, got a taste of what work and fun waited for them when they became juniors.

With Ken Parks' leadership both semesters, the tenth grade slipped by, and we found ourselves ready to put forth more branches, more twigs, to really spread ourselves in the two years to come.

Spread, did we say? Yes. and sometimes we even overshadowed the class of '58 growing right beside us. School was hardly underway when Phoebe Stroupe walked away with the coveted title of "Miss Harding" and the position of carrousel princess.

We had three varsity cheerleaders, too—Pam Worley, Mayme Jo Parr, and Phoebe Stroup—and two majorettes—Billie Faye Barbour and Becky Bollinger. And on the student council Patsy Mullis was vice-president and Pam Worley secretary one semester, and Pam was vice-president and Mayme Jo Parr treasurer the second.

Working on publications were Becky Elam, ACORN junior editor; Manson Case, ACORN junior advertising manager; Beth Clinkscales. ACORN underclass editor; and Patsy Mullis, Hi-Lites assistant editor.

Emily Broome again served as class homecoming attendant, and Deane Benton was chosen class beauty for the ACORN.

But as the year drew to a close everything speeded up. New jobs, new responsibilities, greater growth, for Junior-Senior Prom time had rolled around. Under the leadership of Pam Worley, we selected the theme, "Moonglow," and staged a glamorous evening of entertainment for the class of '58.

And to give the departing seniors a fitting and dignified farewell, we chose commencement marshals, headed by Manson Case and Pam Worley as chief and assistant chief. These two, with Bernadette Nouel, DeVera Taylor, Becky Elam, Mayme Jo Parr, Judy Blackwood, Patsy Mullis, Margaret Pressley, Connie Wilson, Phoebe Stroupe, Gene Melton, Ronnie Puckett, Jim Short, and Darryl Shaver, ushered the class of '58 off the scene. And so they made way for us, the class of '59 to spread our branches, sun our leaves, and grow bigger and stronger as we went toward maturity.

It's been a wonderful year—a year which has spotlighted so many different ones of us—Betty Elliott as our 1959 Miss Harding and Carrousel princess; Phoebe Stroupe as Gridiron Queen and D.A.R. Good Citizen; Patsy Mullis as Miss Hi Miss; Deane Benton as Gridiron attendant and senior class ACORN beauty; Billie Faye Barbour, Peggy Merritt, Deane Benton, Phoebe Stroupe, and Brenda Griffin. and Judy Blackwood as Calendar Girl winners in the Cuties 'n Capers show.

And on the football sports scene highlights were Bill Russell, best sportsmanship; Ken Parks, co-captain and most improved player; Dwaine Godfrey, co-captain and outstanding lineman; and Jimmy King, most valuable player and outstanding back. Dwaine and Jimmy even received All-American honorable mention.

As for basketball Fred Stewart led the whole city-county scoring for the season.

Cheering all teams on to their best were Phoebe Stroupe, head cheerleader, Pam Worley, Betty Elliott, and Mayme Jo Parr; and marching at the front of the band was Jim Short as drum major and Margaret Pressley as majorette.

Becky Elam and Patsy Mullis wrestled with the publication problems of the ACORN and the Hi-Lites. DeVera Taylor and Connie Wilson sweated blood in their pursuit of ads. Manson Case and Darryl Shaver tried to keep the books out of the red. Raymond Hollifield, Beth Clinkscales, and Phoebe Stroupe, too, helped bear the burden as the annual and newspaper met deadlines—and bills.

Manson Case headed the student body for both semesters with Patsy Mullis as first semester secretary. Randy Lambe and Beth Clinkscales were top honor society officers and ultimately valedictorian and salutatorian because of their high ranking grades. And Randy brought prestige to the school—and to our class—by going to the finals in the Morehead Scholarship competition.

We romped through Twerp Week, we slaved over the senior play . . . and loved every minute. We thrilled over Junior-Senior. We wept tears at Maroon and Gold Day—and promptly forgot them in the excitement of the senior picnic.

With Jim Short at our head the first semester and Pam Worley the second, we have come to tonight and our last class get-together. To present to you ourselves—past. present, and future—we selected Patsy Mullis, historian; Manson Case. lawyer; Bernadette Nouel, prophet; Beth Clinkscales, poet; and Mayme Jo Parr and Charles Beaty, giftorians.

Tonight the class of '59 has reached maturity. Tomorrow we go our separate ways. The acorns leave the parent oak but carry in themselves the characteristics of stock from which they sprang. We leave the class of '59 but carry always in ourselves the mark of our six years association with each other, our teachers, and our school.

PATSY MULLIS

SENIOR CLASS PROPHECY

Ladies and gentlemen, this is your reporter from Interplanetary Television Station U. U. A. (Universally Used Atomatically), bringing you the gigantic interplanetary celebration of the coming 21st century. Our base of operations is in New York, and we will be flashing from time to time to our other stations around space. Here in New York the tremendous celebration has been going on for a week. The festivities were opened by a speech made by the President of the United States of Wald (U. S. W.), Manson Case. Assisting Mr. Case in the opening meeting were his vice-president Mayme Jo Parr; his secretary of Treasury, Connie Wilson; and his faithful advisor and friend, Mr. Darryl Shaver. President Case, in his speech, praised the work and accomplishments for peace by the U. S. W. (United States of Wald), and especially its planetary scientific commission headed by the greatest scientist of all times, Doctor Randolph S. Lambe, noted for his construction of a gigantic system of Space Highways between the planets. Also praised for the work on the commission were Edward Chalmers, Bill Ward, Faison Pickard, and George Straton, Doctor Lambe's assistants.

Here we have just received the signal from our station on Mars. We shall continue with the festivities in New York after the report of all other stations.

Come in, Mars.

This is Trish Frye, roving reporter from Mars, bringing you a report of the tremendous celebration taking place in the center of the capital city of Mars, "Marsonville." For weeks there has been a series of gay parties given by socialites, Betty Edwards and Joy Pope. Tonight the aerial coliseum has been turned in as a show place and all the population of Mars is here. One of the most glamorous celebrities present is Mrs. Mars, Betty Elliott, escorted by her husband, Nikki Helms, owner and actor for the Atomic Films Incorporated, also known as the "Marsion Dream Boat." Among other famous celebrities was the terrific "Barbour and Melton Team," who entertained the guests with their new dancing act, "The Pluto Rock." At the Super Auditorium, named for the famous rocket producer Jim Short and his assistant Ronnie Puckett, the Mars Symphony Orchestra was led by universally renowned conductor, Raymond Hollifield, who played the new Mars National Anthem composed by the famous song writer and singer, Glenda Neal. As midnight approaches, throngs are filling the streets preparing to greet the new year and the new century.

. . . Now I switch you to the correspondent on Venus, Margaret Pressley . . . .

This is Margaret Pressley conducting you through the streets of Venus crowded with joyous people. Across the street from the studio is the Venus night club, "A la Venus." Entertaining on this new year's eve are the two geniuses of comedy, DeVera Taylor and Sue Raley. In the crowd of gay party-goers were the outstanding athletes of the Interplanetary Football Team, Cecil Collins, Albert Lands, Joe Nicholson, Jimmy Yandle and Jimmy Taylor, with Dwaine Godfrey and Ken Parks as captains. These two captains led the Interplanetary Team to a record of 15 wins and no losses and to the title of Space Champions. With Dwaine Godfrey was his lovely wife, Deane Godfrey, Mrs. Venus. To my right, I see a beautiful atomic display of fire works, made for the people of Venus by Warren Thompson, the "Fire Work King," and his assistant, Carlyle Smith.

We have just received a signal from Jupiter saying that they are ready to diffuse their reports on the latest new year's eve festivities.

So come in, Jupiter.

Here is Becky Elam speaking for Jupiter. The spirit of the city is one of Mardi-Gras. For a week we have had a continual parade. Featured in the gigantic spectacle were the "Spacettes," Becky Bollinger, Martie Frazier, Jean Joyce, Peggy Merritt, Phyllis Taylor, Janet Gardner and Carolyn Sweezy. Riding high on the queen float was Miss Jupiter, Judy Blackwood, escorted by Mr. Jerry Cates, president of Space Cloth Incorporated, who is also well-known as Mr. Jupiter. Several of the large dances this week have featured the Richard Mullis "Rocketteers," composd of Tommy Byrum, Buddy Booth, Derrick Lane, Charlie Seawell, including vocalist Sarah Bunn.

Besides parades and dances, the showing of the Dream Home of the 21st century was public. Sitting high upon the "Radium Hill," this dream building was designed by head architect Scooter Witherspoon and his assistant James Bumgarner. This house features such conveniences as Automatic Weather Control, that is as soon as a drop of rain falls on the roof, all openings are automatically closed. A completely push button kitchen in which a whole meal can be served by the push of only one button. Barbara Smith, who showed these conveniences was recognized as the Universal Homemaker No. 1. Other hostesses showing this Dream Home were Della Foster, Carolyn Gilbert, Brenda Griffin, Frankie Matthews, and Pat Taylor. The interior decoration was done by heads of Push Button Living, Camelia James, Becky Mitchell, Arzelle Lyons, and Jerry Kollar . . . .

And now at 5 till twelve, I return you to our main station in New York, capital of U. S. W. (United States of Wald).

Come in, New York.

Before we go into the building of United States Wald for our midnight celebration, I want to present to you the most universally outstanding personages of each field.

First of all, elected Mr. and Mrs. Universe were Fred Stewart and Phoebe Stroupe. Then we have with us the heads of Interplanetary Finances, Jeanette Scarborough, Annelle Sharon, Pat Simpson, Pat Keziah, Judy Ligon and Leslie Benson, all taking dictation at 200 words a minute. Now I would like to introduce you to the foremost editor of our time, Patsy Mullis, editor-in-chief of Niki. Society editor of the paper is Judy Kelly who is also known as a socialite herself on earth. Now we have President of the Commission of Interplanetary Sports, Jimmy King, with his very outstanding and lovely wife, Pam Worley. They were recently elected Husband and Wife of the Year, forming the happiest couple. Three of society's well-known millionaire playboys are Charles Beaty, Jimmy Benton and R. L. Jenkins.

It is now 11:59 and all over the universe, pandemonium breaks out. At the U. S. W. Building, Doctor Beth Clinkscales of the U. S. W. gave the dedication of the new century to peace, to greater striving in science and to the people of each and every planet. All over the universe, rockets are being launched. People cheer and atomic blast glows as the U. U. A. T. U. Station bids the 21st century welcome.

SENIOR CLASS POEM

Each of us stands before a door
Beyond is a great new world to explore;
What does this world of the future hold?
None of us know; nor can we be told.

But let us now pause; let us stay,
To cast a glance back along the way
We have come—days of sadness,
Friendship, work, fun, gladness.

We look in on the fun-filled dances,
The gaiety mingled with serious romances.
We thrill again as we remember
That first ball game played in September.

There are the cheerleaders leading the cheers;
Here the new Imperatores are wiping their tears.
Remember the day when the annuals came,
And how hard we tried to get everyone's name?

Remember those who shared each day,
Whose friendship brightened all our way?
They listened patiently to our resolutions,
Rejoiced when our problems found solutions.

Are our lives now moulded, our characters strong?
Have we learned of life, the right and the wrong?
Can we confidently step beyond our door,
Saying, "We are ready for whatever's in store"?

Yes, we are stepping through this open door;
And pausing for only one moment more,
We mingle our tears and our thanks in good-bye
To our treasured Alma Mater—Harding High.

Greetings to the Seniors:

You have pursued to the end and mastered the requirements that warrant this honor. You have been victorious while others have failed, and you now enter fields of higher service in the world.

As you leave, may you take with you a love that will dispel hatred, pardon to heal injury, faith to surmount doubt and the light of truth to conquer the darkness of error and falsehood. May God grant that you shall be instruments of peace, placing within your hearts a true sense of the brotherhood of all humanity.

Congratulations and all good wishes,

Faison,

It seems as though I am in the right place to write this little "theme". (In Mrs. Mommay's class. Many we have been through it in here. Let's hope we can make it the rest of the way. Faison, what we haven't done, isn't worth doing. Right right. The nights out with the boys, the hot coffee and frequent visits to Putt-Putt. Ya. Then there is stunt night, the night we became ladies. Well, here's to the good times of the past and all of the good times to come.

Your subs-supping buddy,

Jane

Saison honey,

How many times have I said that? Hee Buck, it certainly seems funny that were at this same stuff again! I remember this time last year and how I was trying to read your little scribble. You certainly haven't changed, except in certain respects. Graduation is near and I can't wait. I believe it's the excitement of it that I'm looking forward too. If everything goes well, I hope to see you and the "MAYFLOWER" at the beach - cap, gown, and all. I dare you to go in in your tug after Junior-Senior too. Oh, I'd better ask, are you going to the beach then? That does help you know. Only there's one thing I hate to think of about the coming date of June 1st (or whenever it is) and that is - I just wonder if will ever get together again? I mean the whole gang. Last year we messed around together all summer, we could do the same this year, but after that what then? You know Saison, I think it's going to be a big test for us, To see if we are really grown up or not. I wonder if any of us will ever hit that stage? It's a thought to think about isn't it? But Saison, whatever way you go, don't forget us and the school. I'll always remember you as one of my best "high-school friends". Love, Mayme P.S.

Faison,

It won't be long 'til we'll be receiving the diploma which we've been waiting for for twelve, hard, long years. In these years though, I have had some great times. You have helped to make up these damp times with your friendly, crazy ways. Thanks so much for your friendship and for being yourself.

Remember all those times in Homeroom, in Gym (swing your partner), and at lunch time. I'll never forget them, how could I.

I hope after June 1st, our friendship will continue to grow forever because your friendship is the kind everyone like to have.

Best of everything in college. Faison, don't forget to come and see me next year at college.

May God bless you and be with you always.

Love,
Trish

Bucky Beaver,

I don't quite know where to start because we have had so many good times together this year. I guess the Key Club is what really got us started. Working at the basketball games, washing cars, and raising h--- in general. I really enjoyed going out with you. It got me off the beaten track and out doing the things with the boys that I really like. We have had some great times in your Mayflower and in my Green Monster. I was real disappointed when we couldn't go to the beach with the boys but we will go after graduation. I guess the night that sticks most in my memory is when we stayed at my house and then had to get up and carry papers. I really had fun. I am looking foward to more good times this summer and maybe next year. Work hard at State next year. Take good care of yourself because you are one of my good buddies. Lots of luck at State. Always think of me as one of your friends.

Your old pal,

Jim Stott 4/8/59

Faison,

We have been friends for a mighty long time — about twelve years. During these twelve years we have been to Parks Hutchison, Alexander Graham, and to dear old Harding. We have really had some luck raising times. Belive me, we haven't seen a bad good time together for we are really going to make the most of State; I guess we had really better settle down though because State is going to be no picnic. We had better start off right up there so we won't flunk out the first semester; seriously though, I think we can make it if we try. Though college is a little ways off, dear old Junior-Senior isn't; man were really going to have a ball there. Possibly, I hope we can get us up a beach trip. Good times as well as bad times are ahead of us, but I feel confident that we can meet them and overcome them (the good ones too). You have done a lot for old Harding just as it has done a lot for you. I am truly fond of our friendship. God be with you always.

P.S. Until next year. 4/9/59

Best wishes,
Darryl

Faison,

It has really been great knowing you and being in trig. with you. You are a great, crazy boy whom I'm sure will go far in this old world. You are loads of fun — I sure hope that check you gave me at the last dance doesn't bounce — Faison, I want to wish all the love, luck, success, and Happiness that a champion like you deserves. I sincerely hope we will always be the best of friends. I will never forget you and your big mouth (just kidding!) Continue(?) to be good and God bless you always.

Love,

Patsy Mullis
